

Visual communication with haptic gloves

Abstract

The visual communication with haptic glove project, give the change to a user to record he own signs and later on compare this bank of sign with the input form the gloves and display in on a wen interface. This project had the aim to facilitate the communication from deaf people to non-deaf people though technology. Of course, here it is just a proof of concept